

9/21/09

Sacramento's 8th Annual Fall Home Show Gives You a Head Start on Home Improvement Projects

Now is the time to take action! If you're thinking about remodeling, adding a patio or outdoor kitchen head to Cal Expo Friday through Sunday! Want to save on your energy bills or give your home more curb appeal? Sacramento's Fall Home Show is your winning destination this weekend. The economy is slowly turning around, so this may be your last, best opportunity to get those large and small home projects started and completed at low, low prices. The professionals who specialize in home improvement and repair are still in a very competitive mode. They need your business! Meet them and get a great deal at Sacramento's Fall Home Show, the 8th annual edition, at Cal Expo!

Admission price to this year's Show? Just three dollars! Bring a can of food for the Sacramento Food Bank with you, and the admission is only two dollars!

Sacramento's Fall Home Show at Cal Expo will fill Buildings 1-8 at the Expo Center, the Outside Plaza by the Fountain and Palm Avenue, which leads to the Expo Center. At the new "Look, Listen & Learn" Stage in Building 8, the experts in design, decorating, remodeling and energy savings will be offering free tips and advice. At the NARI (National Association of Remodeling Industry) booth in Building 4, talk with the pros who can get you started on the home of your dreams. Representatives from the Internal Revenue Service and Franchise Tax Board will be here to tell you about tax incentives for home improvement projects.

"Going Green" is not only good for the planet, it's also great for the wallet as a way to dramatically reduce water and power bills. Sacramento's Fall Home Show can show you the way. The Sacramento Municipal Utility District, in partnership with the Sacramento Tree Foundation, will be there to explain how you qualify to get ten free shade trees for your yard. And, get the lowdown on how compact fluorescent lights can lower your energy bills. Drop by the SMUD booth in Building 3 and find out how.

Check out our website, www.sachomeandgardenshow.com, for special discounts and offers from our vendors. Even more exhibitors will be offering exclusive, show-only discounts and specials, so take your time as you stroll through Cal Expo this weekend.

Come talk with our special guests Sunday from 12:15 to 2:15 p.m. in Expo Building 4: KFBK/KSTE Radio Garden Show personality, "Farmer" Fred Hoffman, as well as real estate expert Terry Knight, host of the "KFBK Real Estate Show". By the way, Fred Hoffman, besides being a Lifetime Master Gardener, holds a college degree in Journalism and is the creative writer for this special section.

Save gas, save money, get great ideas for your home and get a start on all your fall remodeling plans in one location this Friday through Sunday at Sacramento's Fall Home Show at Cal Expo. The Show opens Friday at Noon and runs through Sunday until 5 p.m. And we will back at Cal Expo March 5-7, 2010 with the 29th Original Sacramento Home & Garden Show. Hope to see you here!

Dave Tanigawa, Producer
Sacramento's Fall Home Show
The Original Sacramento Home and Garden Show